MR. GOMPERS AND MANUFACTURERS

President of Federation Causes
Some Sensation at Convention

ALLEGED BRIBERY ATTEMPT

Conflicting Statements of Mr.
Gompers and Broughton
Brandenburg

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—A great sensation was caused in the convention of the American Federation of Labor today by President Gompers in a speech replying to the attacks made upon him and other officers of the Federation by the Manufacturers' Association, when he described an alleged attempt to bribe him at the Victor Hotel, New York, in October, by a young newspaper man giving the name of Charles Brandenburg. The young man, President Gompers said, declared he represented the National Manufacturers' Association, and was prepared to offer him immunity from all exposure and make him financially secure for the remainder of his life if he would sign a certain paper, and otherwise aid in the "exposure" of other leaders in the American Federation of Labor, with the view to virtually destroying the influence of organized labor.

The paper, President Gompers said, was purported to have been signed when he (Gompers) was ill in 1895. This paper, Mr. Gompers said, he had preserved, and while death-like stillness prevailed in the convention, he drew forth the original document and read it.

During his account of the alleged attempt at bribery, Mr. Gompers called upon different delegates who were with him when he had interviews with Brandenburg to verify the statement. This the delegates, rising in their seats, did. Mr. Gompers closed closed with these words: "All I now have to add is that there is not scintilla of truth in anything published or which can be published by the National Association of Manufacturers or their hirelings, which can in any way reflect upon the integrity or the morality or the honesty of myself, and I have an abiding faith that they cannot do so of any member of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. I defy any enemy to do their worst."

At the close of President Gompers' speech, there was a great demonstration. Even Victor L. Berger, the Milwaukee Socialist, opponent of Mr. Gompers, declared that although at convention after convention he had bitterly opposed the re-election of President Gompers, as would be the one this year to move to make his election unanimous, with a vote of confidence, not only in President Gompers, but in all the other officers of the American Federation of Labor. "This," said Mr. Berger, "is the answer of the Socialists to the Manufacturers' Association."

A motion offered by W. D. Ryan, of Springfield, Illinois, reporting that the Illinois Mine Workers had voted confidence in President Gompers and denouncing the Manufacturers' Association, received immediate consideration and was passed amid excitement.

A Different Version
New York, Nov. 20.—Broughton Brandenburg, President of the National Institute of Immigration, and a magazine writer, said tonight that he was the man referred to by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, when the latter at the convention in Norfolk today declared that one "Charles Brandenburg," a newspaper man, attempted to bribe him to take part in an "exposure" of other Federation leaders.

In a statement dictated tonight, Mr. Brandenburg emphatically denied that he had attempted to bribe Mr. Gompers. He also said that he had no connection with the National Manufacturers' Association, and that his dealings with President Gompers were solely in the interests of a publication which he represented. He himself had been the intended victim of the plot that had failed. He declared Mr. Gompers' statement was an effort to forestall the effect of what he knew was about to be published.

Mr. Brandenburg says: "Mr. Gompers was said to know what I had secured in the way of material in the South. In order to mislead him, I gave him a fictitiously written paper, incomplete and unsigned. This is the paper which he has read dramatically."

DROWNED IN THE GULF

J. Hudson and R. Holden Meet Death
Near Vancouver Through Capsizing of Their Boat

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—J. Hudson and R. Holden, aged 45 and 18 respectively, were drowned in the Gulf of Georgia on Monday night or early yesterday morning.

In company with J. Chapman, aged 18, they came around from the Fraser River in a fishing boat. Off Bowen Island the craft capsized. Holden swam ashore, but was unable to land because the cliffs were so steep, and after great difficulty succeeded again in gaining the overturned boat. He was badly exhausted. Chapman later swam ashore and reached smooth sand. The last he saw of the overturned boat was when it was floating up Howe sound.

A search party tonight found the boat floating off Point Atkinson. Holden's lifeless body was bound by a rope to the overturned bottom. He had evidently died from exposure. Hudson was not found, but undoubtedly he went overboard and was drowned.

EUROPEAN COMMENT ON TREASURY PLAN

Possible Effects of Secretary
Cortelyou's Action—The French May Help

London, Nov. 20.—The measures taken by Secretary Cortelyou to deal with the financial crisis in the United States are discussed at length in the financial and editorial columns of the London newspapers today, and various opinions are ventured on their probable efficiency. The Daily News says that even if the financial crisis is passed, it has left commercial depression in its wake. The Telegraph declares that in the present plight of America it is no slight success to create a favorable impression, and that Secretary Cortelyou certainly has done this. The Standard says that the measures taken by the government should induce bondholders to renew confidence in the stability of the banks, and that the tangle into which affairs have been allowed to drift may be straightened out, if there is a general determination on the part of the banks and the people to work unanimously to that end.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The international banking houses who have been trying for several days to induce the Bank of France to sell gold for shipment to the United States have received no definitive answers. One of these bankers said today that he believed that the bank was holding back, pending the result of the negotiations, which he says he has reason to believe are progressing at Washington directly between the government and the banks. This banker expressed the opinion that direct transactions on the basis of United States treasury notes will be impossible, as the Bank of France can only discount three months' paper. But at the same time, the banker pointed out that the transaction could be accomplished indirectly by accepted bills drawn up on Paris banks, as J. P. Morgan and company proposed last week, using possibly treasury notes as collateral, with a government guarantee. Some such deal is hinted at in the following seemingly inspired statement printed this evening in La Liberté: "The laws of the Bank of France do not authorize direct participation in the projected issue (of United States Treasury notes), but we believe we know that a combination designed to permit French banks to lend their aid to the operation has been considered."

ITALIANS CAPTURED SHIP
Took Possession of Virginian's Steerage in Opposition to Allan Company's Wishes

Montreal, Nov. 20.—There was war on the Allan steamer Virginian this evening. Two hundred Italians who had purchased tickets for Liverpool swarmed on board the steamer and took possession of the steerage. The company intended sending the Italians to the Sicilian sailing tomorrow evening, but the Italians came to the conclusion that they would sail on the Virginian, and took possession. Attempts were made to dislodge them, but without avail, and finally the company was obliged to take off 250 other steerage passengers, mostly Poles, Russians and Swedes, and transfer them to the Sicilian. They took the change of steamers philosophically, and the Italians carried the day. The Virginian has 800 passengers in her steerage.

QUEBEC BRIDGE EXPERTS DIFFER

Engineer Cooper Says Collapse Could Easily Have Been Prevented

LITTLE WORK INVOLVED

President of Phoenix Bridge Co.
Lays Blame on Mr.
Cooper

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—The royal commission named by the Canadian Government to investigate the causes that led to the collapse of the Quebec bridge on August 29, tonight made public the testimony taken here and at the works of the Phoenix Bridge company at Phoenixville, Pa.

Theodore Cooper, of New York, the consulting engineer, in his testimony before the commission in New York, intimated that the engineers in charge of the work at the bridge site were incompetent, and declared that with the expenditure of $100 and three hours' labor the weakened part of the structure could have been braced until permanent repairs were made and the structure saved.

David Reeves, president of the Phoenix Bridge company, which was erecting the bridge, in his testimony, made public today by the commission, said: "Mr. Cooper states that he could have saved the bridge, that he knows the weakness of the members that failed, and could have remedied them at a cost of $100. But he does not say how, nor did he tell Mr. McLure, inspector of erection at Quebec, on August 29, when he called on him, nor did he tell any one else when the information might have been acted upon."

Mr. Reeves then explained that Mr. Cooper made modifications in the units of stress. Ordinarily engineers use 12,000 to 15,000 pounds to the square inch as the basis or unit of stress in determining the amount of metal to be put into each member in a bridge, but in the Quebec bridge, according to Mr. Reeves, Mr. Cooper increased this to 24,000.

"Such high stresses had never before been used when using steel," he added without authority of the Quebec Bridge Company and the Dominion of Canada, vested in him. The fall of the bridge is to be laid directly to the changes of stress as made by Mr. Cooper.

The members of the commission will not make their official report to the Canadian Government until after Christmas, and they would not comment upon the testimony taken here which was attested by British Consul Powell.

BRIBERY CARNIVAL IN LONDON ELECTION

Witnesses Testify to Buying of Votes and Tampering With Ballots

Toronto, Nov. 20.—At yesterday afternoon's proceedings in the London bye-election bribery case, Thomas Taylor said today in the Hyman-Gray election he received a note from Jerry Collins to take to Tom Lewis. The latter promised him $10. He received $9.50, and defendant Wylie handed him a receipt to sign.

J. H. Andrews declared that he met Collins and Mulloy at the Brunswick Hotel, London. He was to keep the money. After the election witness claimed money, though he had voted for Gray.

Enoch Fowler stated that he was canvassed by Tom Lewis as to how he was going to vote, and replied for Hyman. A day or two after the election a man whom he did not know met him on the street and handed him $10. Edgar Clarke said that Collins, in the presence of Mulloy, promised him $10 for his vote.

W. E. Everett said that at an interview with Collins and Mulloy he was offered $10 to vote right.

John Redmond was told by a woman in a buggy to see Jerry Collins at the Liberal committee rooms. He did so, and Collins, with whom Mulloy was present, put something in an envelope, and told witness that if he did not vote right he would not get it. The money was afterwards paid by Collins.

Daniel Holle also admitted having been offered money at an interview he had with Lewis and another man. Charles White and James Dewar testified that they had talked with Collins and another, who had put money in envelopes, informing them that it would be given them if they voted for Hyman.

At this morning's session William Spence said that the bye-election in June, 1905, he was made a south side scrutineer for division 1, ward 2. Jerry Collins being deputy returning officer. Collins gave him $15 after the election. Witness asked what it was for, but Collins' reply was: "Never mind what it is for." He accepted the money on the advice of his son, but did not know what it was for. He supposed it had some connection with the election. After counting up the ballots Witness stacked up the boxes and left them in the polling place, the door being locked by Wm. Serviss, who kept the keys. On the street he met E. I. Sifton, of the Electrical Construction Co., who expressed disappointment at the result. He remarked that some of the voters must have gone back on them, and suggested that they should return to the booth and go over the ballots. Witness was surprised at the proposition, and at first declined to go, but later yielded. Witness related how he took the ballots out, and said the inspection showed that two had gone wrong. As far as possible Spence covered up his tracks by re-sealing the ballot box and envelopes containing the ballot papers. The box he afterwards carried home.

Wm. Serviss, who acted as scrutineer in the Beck-Rumble election, admitted that he held money on this occasion. He received in the neighborhood of twelve envelopes from Mr. Mulloy in the Liberal committee rooms but could not say for whom, having kept no record. They were all, however, for voters in the division. He watched and saw all "delivered the goods."

ALBERTA RANCHERS LIKELY TO SUFFER

Failure to Dispose of Surplus
Stock Puts Them in Bad
Position

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—A gentleman, who has just returned from Alberta, says that there are at least 50,000 head of cattle in that province that were ready for shipment, but will have to be turned back on to the range for the winter.

According to the information given the Free Press informant by the ranchers, it would appear that they were promised early in the season that buyers would be sent out to pick up their surplus cattle. This promise was renewed from time to time, but no buyers put in an appearance, and as the end of the shipping season came near the ranchers became alarmed and were more importunate in their desires to get rid of their cattle, but were then told that there was no money to purchase with.

This was a sore disappointment, as the ranchers were depending upon prospective sales to meet their liabilities and carry them through the winter. It is now too late to ship for export, and the home market cannot take all the available surplus, consequently the stock rounded up for market will have to go back to the ranges and get through the winter the best way they can, for in many cases no hay has been put up.

The ranchers believe that the treatment they have received is the result of the action some took in connection with the beef combine. It is alleged that while the inquiry was in progress in Alberta tarrets were made that the ranchers would be starved for charging that the big buyers had an arrangement whereby competition was stopped.

However, whether or not the ranchers are correct in their deduction, because of their failure to dispose of their cattle they will have to do considerable financing with friends or with the banks to get through and satisfy their creditors. Some of them may have to sacrifice their stock and get out of the business altogether.

Liberals Like Ballots
Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 20.—After a stormy and confused session, involving charges of ballot box stuffing and the retiring of the chairman, the York County Liberal convention here today nominated T. Whitehead for Ottawia, over E. H. Allen and Alex. Gibson, ex-M. P. of Marysville. Less than 100 voters were present, but it is said that 400 ballots were placed in the box when the first vote was taken. At least one man was said to have voted four times.

FUNDS FURNISHED MEN ON KUMERIC

New Light Thrown on Incident
by Commissioner King's Inquiry

EVIDENCE OF DR. MONRO

Immigration Officer Was Misled as to Actual Ownership of Money

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—A volume of evidence, interesting and at times thrilling, was brought out this afternoon in the longest session of the Immigration inquiry thus far, during which R. G. Macpherson, M.P., Dr. A. S. Monro, Dominion immigration and medical officer, his assistant, Thomas Elliot, and Geo. A. McNichol, purchasing agent for the G. T. P. were examined by Commissioner King.

With a telegram dated today from Mr. Morse, at Winnipeg, Mr. McNichol quoted the general manager that the G. T. P. company had not entered into any contracts or arrangements of any kind for importing Asiatic labor, and that D. H. Hays, brother of Charles M. Hays, had no connection with the G. T. P., nor had the G. T. P. officials any shares in the H. C. T. and Lumber Co., of which D. H. Hays is secretary. Commissioner and counsel accepted his statement and withdrew the subpoenas issued for Mr. Hays and Harbor Engineer Bacon, both at Prince Rupert.

Mr. Morikawa, Japanese consul, although not present was the central figure in the evidence of the other three witnesses, who re-told the story of the landing here on July 25, of the British tramp steamer Kumeric with twelve hundred Japanese, to whom as it now officially appears, the Honolulu keepers had advanced $25 required by the act to be the legal money of immigrants entering British Columbia.

New light was thrown on Mr. Morikawa's demand for this $25 from each one of the Japanese as they descended the gang plank, which was stopped by Dr. Monro and Mr. Macpherson after two hundred had descended and had dropped their deposits with the passports bag held by Mr. Morikawa's secretary.

Dr. Monro stated that he did not know until after the Japanese had landed that the $25 he had seen in the possession of each man was not their personal money, as a letter from the Theodore Davies Co., at Honolulu had stated that they had collected money from the Japanese at Honolulu and were now returning it through the ship's agents here by draft to make certain that each would have the necessary money to enter.

City Solicitor Cowan—"Then as Dominion government officer you were hoodwinked?"
Dr. Monro—"Yes, I was deceived, as I have since learned that the money did not belong to the Japanese passengers."

"Finding that the Japanese boarding houses in Vancouver could accommodate only three hundred, Mr. Morikawa, in the interest of the remaining eight hundred, had sought to collect money," said Dr. Monro, "to defray the expenses of hiring a local vessel and electric cars to take them to Steveston, fifteen miles from Vancouver. Mr. Morikawa added that it would be well for me to collect from all returning when they had secured positions, also to see that the money did not go back to Honolulu."

"Then Mr. Morikawa was collecting money from the Japanese which he knew did not belong to them?" exclaimed Mr. Cowan, whose contention is that Mr. Morikawa was acting as agent for the Honolulu Immigration company.

Dr. Monro—"I would not say that he knew that. It merely occurred to me that he had a suspicion."
A volley of like questions followed, which was finally checked by the commissioner, who thought Mr. Morikawa's action consistent with his interest in his countrymen. He no doubt would be a witness and explain. There was yet no proof that he knew the money did not belong to the passengers, and it was not desirable to permit questions insinuating that he did, particularly in his absence.

"I am desirous of bringing out all the facts, whoever they may involve, but we must have facts," added Mr. King.

Regarding the treatment of unsound Oriental immigrants, Dr. Monro stated that he had advised the Ottawa government not to continue their treatment in the government detention hospital here for trachoma and other diseases, but he believed the government had not accepted his advice, because of the conditions at Atlantic coast points, where the practice was desirable, as well as to secure uniformity of rules.

Mr. McPherson's evidence was unimportant.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—With the prospects of an early election in Labellé, the seat for which was made vacant by the retirement of Henri Bourassa from the Commons, now candidates are looking up every day. The latest is W. H. Kelly, a lumberman of Buckingham, and mayor of the town.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY IN SESSION

Annual Meeting of Workers of Methodist Church is Held

The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Victoria, a district held yesterday in the Metropolitan Methodist church at 11 a. m.

The district organizer, Mrs. Frank Adams, occupied the chair. After prayer and scripture reading, reports from the Women's Auxiliaries of the Metropolitan and Centennial churches of Victoria, were read as follows:

Metropolitan Church

Last year we returned 102 members, ten of these are life members, leaving 92 annual members.

We have lost two members this year by removal, but have received two new members thus holding our membership for last year.

We deeply regret the death of one of our members, Mrs. Finch, but feel sure that she has been removed to a higher sphere of usefulness.

The increase of membership last year over the year preceding was 26. The average attendance at our regular monthly meetings is 23.

A very successful Easter service was held, at which the thank offering amounted to $69.55.

The total receipts for the year were $319.60.

The Centennial Auxiliary

We have a membership of thirty-eight, with seven life-members, three of these having been added to our number during the past year. Regular monthly meetings have been held and quarterly missionary prayer meetings.

The usual summer outing was held in August, and very largely attended by the members and their friends.

We have an Associate Helpers Branch, with sixteen members, for whom monthly letters are provided.

Quite recently two of our members have been removed by death. We are sorry to take their names off our roll, but are glad to testify that they lived a good life and died a triumphant death.

Verbal Reports

Short verbal reports were received from Duncan's, Sidney, Victoria West and the Chinese mission band, showing that good work is being done in all these districts and that much enthusiasm is being manifested.

The district secretary spoke in terms of praise of the good work being carried on at the Chinese mission by Mrs. Snider, who was unavoidably absent.

A band of little ones from this mission sang a little hymn very delightfully. They were accompanied by Miss Smith, their assistant, Mrs. Snider, and who has long been known in missionary circles as matron of Coquetletza Indian mission home at Chilliwack.

Mission Bands.

The reports of the mission bands of the Metropolitan and Centennial churches were then received, showing that the young people of these churches are deeply interested in the work of foreign missions and are ready to deny themselves in many ways to promote the cause of their Master.

After the morning session a luncheon was given in the schoolroom in honor of the evangelists, the Revs. Crossley and Hunter. A large number sat down to a bountiful spread table and enjoyed a social hour together. Besides the ladies and the evangelists there were present the pastors of all the Methodist churches of the city and the Chinese and Japanese missionaries.

After the preliminary services the afternoon session was opened by an address of welcome by Mrs. Bruce, of the Metropolitan Methodist church, which was replied to by Mrs. Thompson, of the Centennial Auxiliary society.

Organizer's Report.

The district organizer's report was then read as follows:

In giving the fourth annual report of our district, I am thankful to say that God has honored us in our work, although many times we feel discouraged when we realize how little we have done for our Master and how much we ought to do and how much there is to be done. The lack of knowledge of our work seems to be our greatest hindrance. If we, as members of the W.M.S. would take more time to learn what our society is doing and learn the needs of the great missionary movement, we would all be more enthusiastic and interested but the general cry is we are so busy we have very little time for reading. Nevertheless God is blessing our work and if we only do the best we can He will use our feeble efforts.

In Victoria district we have six auxiliary societies, namely, Metropolitan, Centennial, James Bay, Strawberryvale and Duncan's.

We have six mission bands, the Metropolitan, Chinese, Centennial, Victoria West, Strawberryvale and Sidney.

This last year we have organized two auxiliary societies and one mission band.

I have visited Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Duncan's, and have the promise of an auxiliary mission band at Nanaimo and a band at Ladysmith. We organized an auxiliary at Duncan's.

I also visited Sidney and organized a mission band of thirty members, with Mrs. Griffin as superintendent. I have written a great many letters and distributed a large quantity of literature. We have over 100 mite boxes in use.

We have 159 annual members and 18 life members. We have 142 mission band members, two life members. We raised last year from auxiliary and mission bands about $560.

We subscribe for eighty missionary Outlooks, a large number of missionary letters and forty palm branches.

We have a large number of associate helpers who take the missionary letters and contribute through the mite boxes. I hope we may do more along the line of associate helpers this coming year. It is one of the best features of the work as it reaches women who are not able to attend our meetings but who are anxious to help in the good work. Dear sisters, may we this coming year prove ourselves faithful to the work and let Jesus, willing to do anything He calls us to do.

An address was given by Mr. Kuna-bay, Japanese missionary and by the Chinese missionary, Mr. Chan, who spoke through an interpreter.

A number of enquiries were then asked and answered by the ladies present. The questions were pointed and practical and the answers helpful. During the afternoon Miss Spencer sang two beautiful solos.

Mr. Crossley's Address.

Rev. Mr. Crossley said he had always been interested in missions. There was a time when people were afraid that if women engaged in missionary work their interference would weaken the hands of the existing organizations. That time had long gone by and the good work done by women was acknowledged everywhere. Many of the who had been converted in the revivals conducted by the speaker and Mr. Hunter were laboring in various lands. He encouraged the ladies to persevere in the good work they had so well begun.

Mr. Hunter Speaks.

Mr. Hunter said he had just come from preaching to forty prisoners in the jail and spoke of the great contrast between those whose lives were spent in sin and those who felt the joy and peace that comes to men and women who are following in the footsteps of the Redeemer.

He had in his youth been a missionary in Manitoba when it was as yet almost a wilderness and some of his happiest years had been those spent there.

It was hard to realize the necessity for sending out missionaries. We could not bear to hear of the loss of a ship near our shores but found it hard to realize the necessity of sending missionaries to bring the news of salvation to 800,000,000 of heathen.

Work Among Indians.

Miss A. T. Martin gave a most interesting description of her work among the Kitimat Indians, showing how eager the Indians were to help to support their children who were being taught and cared for in the mission school and how on one occasion, when the storehouse had been destroyed by fire, they contributed a supply of food to supply the loss.

A much sadder story had Mrs. Nicholas to tell of the work among the Victoria Indians, where the influence of the wicked white men made it very hard to convince the Indians of the truths of the Gospel. Yet even here there was hope and the good lady labored in season and out of season to bring comfort and peace to the women in the neighborhood of the city. She felt that the good seed had not fallen on barren soil. A most interesting and profitable meeting was brought to a close by the singing of a hymn and the benediction.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"The House That Jack Built."

A number of society's young folk will be in the production of "The House That Jack Built," which will be produced in the Victoria theatre Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. They are enjoying the rehearsals as much as the children. Miss Martin's enthusiasm is contagious. Victoria is fortunate in having so many actresses and actors and so much genuine musical talent.

"The Spider's Web"

Sarah Truax, whose Roma in "The Eternal City," and in "Man and Superman," Henrietta in "The Two Orphans," and the Princess Irene in "The Prince of India," has charmed players throughout the entire country. She comes to the Victoria theatre Wednesday evening next, in her new play, "The Spider's Web," an original drama in three acts by John Hutchins. The play is said to be true to life. While the lines are bright and the situations are strong, the play is not overdrawn. The plot hinges around a young American girl, a choir singer in one of the leading churches of New York, who by the generosity of a wealthy woman of the church is sent to Europe to study. Here she meets the "spider," and the untangling of the web runs through the three acts. The scenes are all laid in this country. The first act is the home coming of the girl. It portrays her as sweet and unaffected as when she left, and is said to be well suited to Miss Truax's fresh style of beauty. The story becomes more intense in the second act, gradually changing from the light, breezy vein to that of deep emotion. The last act is said to be one of the most unique climaxes ever attempted in a drama. It is in these latter scenes that Miss Truax appears at her true worth, but it is the changing emotions, the lights and shades of the character which demonstrate the artist's wonderful ability to sway her audiences. The story has a well executed and happy ending.

In support of Miss Truax is said to be a company of finished players, many of whom are well-known stage favorites. The production is said to be very elaborate. Miss Truax is starring under the management of John Cort.

"The Holy City"

"The Holy City" which will be given a presentation at the Victoria theatre tomorrow evening was the first play in the history of the American stage to win to the side of the theatre priests and ministers of all denominations and thousands upon thousands of lay people, who, before the advent of this heart-stirring play, had condemned the playhouse, not only have hundreds of prominent clergymen recorded their praise of the fine influence of this sublime drama in writing, but openly from their pulpits have urged the fullest public recognition of "The Holy City" as a play of uplifting and ennobling theme. The scenes of the play are laid in Rome, just before its downfall, when vice and wanton prodigality held full sway under the despotic sway of Nero. In contrast to the luxury and excess of the Roman court are the gentle modesty and sublime faith of the little band of Christians whose prosecution adds much to the wonderful play. The rich splendor of the Roman court is shown in magnificent scenery, costly raiment and brilliant armor and jewels. A fine company will interpret the play. Miss Luella Morey, who scored such a hit last season will still handle the difficult role of Salome, the beautiful daughter of King Herod. And this is the last season for Miss Morey on the road, as in March she will leave for New York to open in a new piece being specially written for her.

Marie Cahill's Career.

Miss Marie Cahill, who will be seen at the Victoria theatre Monday evening next in "Marrying Mary," is a Brooklyn girl and affords in her career an example of opportunity long waited for and taken advantage of when it did come.

Miss Cahill went on the stage as a little girl in a Brooklyn theatre and played a small soubrette part in some sort of an Irish melodrama. She was therefore never in the chorus of any production, immediately afterwards she commenced to obtain the positions in New York shows which have a splendid professional reputation, as a dancing and singing soubrette. A year or two before Augustin Daly died he made Miss Cahill into that splendid singing organization which produced "The Runaway Girl." In this show created the role of a Venetian dancer and astonished the New York theatre world with her unsuspected ability.

Miss Cahill then confessed that from the time she was ten years old, she had never missed her daily lesson in fancy dancing, and took advantage of an interview afforded her to record in her quaint way the study of the art of dancing to all young ladies on or off the stage.

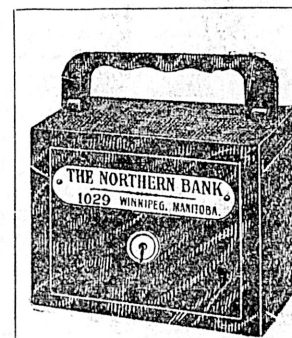

It was immediately after this that Miss Cahill commenced to be looked upon as a Broadway fixture. She appeared in such productions as "The Wild Rose," "Sally in Our Alley" and "The Silver Slipper." New York liked her and she found it to her advantage to remain in New York. It was for this reason that she never went on the road, but as soon as a company had filled its New York engagement, she would transfer to some other part that was sure to be open for her. Miss Cahill has stated that her real reason for doing this was to avoid getting away from the singing and dancing teachers in whom she had the greatest trust. Through all these seasons "The young woman was working hard at her chosen profession, studying and reading and hoping for the opportunity which would bring her under the strong calcium which means a future. This finally came to her through the song, "Nancy Brown," which she sang in "Bamboozle" in "Sally in Our Alley." Again a sensation and this time it surrounded the young woman as much as it did the song. Stuart Robson saw her one night and told his manager Daniel V. Arthur, that Marie Cahill, properly managed, had the making of the greatest comedienne the American stage had ever seen. Mr. Arthur sought an introduction to Miss Cahill immediately, with the result that he started her the next season in "Nancy Brown."

The result of "Nancy Brown" was the popularity of a number of songs including "The Congo Love Song," but the unexpected result was the fulfillment, or rather the starting of the fulfillment, of Stuart Robson's prophecy. Marie Cahill was pronounced by the critics a comedienne of the greatest originality and ability. Here is the only case on record of a star going into a Broadway theatre with her first play and staying there an entire season. She has just completed a successful run at Daly's Theatre, New York, with her new play, "Marrying Mary," where it made a great hit.

Pantages Theatre.

The entertainment at the Johnson street theatre this week is pleasing and sized audiences. Those who were present last night received a pleasant surprise in seeing an extra number that was not to be found on the programme. The one referred to was presented by Rose and Morrell and is a splendid comedy sketch entitled "The Irish Recruit." It is loaded with good comedy, singing and dancing and made a decided hit. The four El Dils in their wonderful feats have made a big impression and become great favorites. Their acts are certainly very clever and worth seeing. The show is

FUTURE OF CANADA

(Third Article)

Mr. R. Grigg was sent out to Canada some time ago by the British Board of Trade, which it will be remembered is a department of the government to investigate conditions with a view to the appointment of representatives of the Board in different parts of the Dominion, who would be able to keep the British public in touch with what is going on in the business world here. Mr. Grigg visited this city. He has about completed his report, but owing to his official position is not able to make it public. Those who have conversed with him since his return to England are very sanguine as to the amount of good that will be accomplished by the publication of the information collected by him and the opinions he has formed. He has expressed his regret that British business men do not yet appreciate that "Canada even now is rapidly developing into one of the greatest world-powers the modern world has yet seen." He expects to see the Dominion occupy the place now held by the United States before the close of the century. Mr. Grigg is no enthusiast. Most people, who met him, thought that he was inclined in the other direction, that he was a man who examines closely what is presented to him, and expresses himself with great caution. This adds greatly to the value of any views that he may have formed.

Canada, a world-power! The expression has a novel sound. Few Canadians have ever felt like employing it. Perhaps we are too close to what is transpiring in the Dominion to be able to take it all in. When one stands near the foot of a lofty mountain his range of vision is limited by his surroundings. It is only when he withdraws to a distance that he is able to appreciate the majesty of the peak. Every one who has crossed the mountains on the Canadian Pacific Railway knows how true this is. So it seems to be necessary for people to look at us from the outside to be able to form a just estimate of what our country is and is becoming. Mr. A. J. Dawson has told us that we are even now a nation; Mr. Grigg, whose opportunities of observation were prolonged and unique, tells us that we will become one of the greatest world-powers. These things are inspiring. We commend them to the consideration of the educational authorities of Canada. We venture to think that the time has come when great attention ought to be paid to the instruction of public school children in regard to the present condition and future possibilities of the Dominion. Canadian boys and girls should be brought up to appreciate the coming greatness of Canada. We are not particularly in love with the system in vogue in the United States, under which school children are taught that their country is first and the remainder of the world nowhere, because national bumptiousness is as bad as the individual article; but we hold that it is time that every Canadian child was taught that it is a part of his inestimable privilege to assist in the development of a Canadian nation, and that the rewards that await well directed effort to that end are as splendid as any that were ever presented to a people. The immigration problem is a great one; the transportation problem is a great one; but greater than either or both is the building up of a Canadian sentiment, which will have its roots deep in a knowledge of the material resources of our country and the priceless heritage of British institutions, which we possess. How this can best be done is not as easy to say as it is to say that it ought to be done. But our English observers are helping us. Mr. Dawson's article on Canada as a nation, which the Colonist reproduced, might be read with advantage in every school. Every schoolboy in Victoria today ought to be told that a competent observer, sent out by the British government to study our land, has publicly stated that Canada is even now developing into one of the greatest of world-powers. Get this thought deep into the minds of the young people and a work will be accomplished for the up-building of Canadian self-reliance and an appreciation of the duties of Canadian citizenship, which will hasten the time when the anticipations of our friends will be realized. We would like to see Mr. Grigg's words written upon every school blackboard in British Columbia. It is a good thing to have our Trafalgar Days and tell the young of the glorious exploits of our country's heroes on sea and land. It is a good thing to fly the flag and teach children what it stands for. But it is even a more important thing to instill deep into the minds of the young people, in whose hands the destiny of this country will soon lie, how great a problem they will be called upon to work out and the magnificent reward that will crown honorable effort to discharge the duties of citizenship. Let them be instructed not only in what people of our race have done in the past, but in what they are called upon to do in the future, and for the doing of which the history of the British people affords so much wise counsel and encouragement.

THE ALL-RED PROJECT

The Times the other evening expressed a wish that something could be done to advance matters in connection with the much discussed project of giving this island a direct line of railway to the mainland. Recent announcements from London, to the effect that rival companies are displaying great energy in pressing their respective plans for the All-Red imperial fast steamship service, direct attention anew to the very vital interest we in this particular section of the Dominion have in watching the progress of the negotiations, which appear likely to bear fruit at a much earlier date than was generally anticipated. Has not Vancouver Island a message for the promoters of the All-Red project? We think it has, and, furthermore, that it is the bounden duty of the various public bodies promptly to take such steps as may be necessary to see that message reaches the proper parties. It has been demonstrated over and over again, by the citation of the most convincing evidence, that in any project which aims at a reduction of time between the ports of Canada and the Orient, Vancouver Island's position on the Pacific seaboard is a factor which ought not to be overlooked. It may be said that the promoters of the All-Red scheme know all about this island and its strategic position in connection with the working out of their plans. But do they? Of course we quite admit that it goes without saying that they have at their disposal all the data which they consider necessary for their purposes in laying their plans before the various governments. But are they in a position to state the case for Vancouver Island as we want it stated, and as it should be stated? We all know that it is frequently the habit of promoters of great enterprises to follow "the line of least resistance" in approaching governments; and it is conceivable that on an occasion like the present it might be considered expedient to lay such information before the government as would command the maximum amount of support from the members of the House of Commons. But on the other hand, if it could be demonstrated to the satisfaction of the various governments involved that, by the utilization of ports on Vancouver Island, the Pacific end of the All-Red scheme could be simplified in some of its most important details, such demonstration would likely materially aid the consummation of the scheme. It is clear that the time has arrived when the voice of Vancouver Island should be heard in this matter. We have nothing to lose and everything to gain by having our claims properly presented. It does not require any very great stretch of the imagination to understand that in some quarters not very remote from Victoria a neglect of our duty in this respect would be welcomed. The question may here be asked: What are we to do? To this we would reply—arrange to forward to Ottawa at the earliest possible date a full and complete statement of the claims of the ports of Vancouver Island for inclusion in any scheme for a fast Imperial trans-Pacific service to be aided by the government of Canada. In a few weeks the whole question of the All-Red project will be debated at Ottawa; and, in view of the latest announcements from London telling of the progress made by the promoters of the enterprise, it appears probable that the government will be able to lay before the House a definite proposal. Is it not obvious, then, that the Island's representatives should be in a position to speak with full information of its position in connection with the project? We think so; and we are very glad indeed to feel that we can count on the support of the Times in the endeavor to guard the interests of Victoria and the Island in this important matter.

A FRIENDLY CRITIC.

A correspondent, who did not say whether he wished his letter published, indulges in a little friendly criticism of what he thinks is Victoria's attitude towards other parts of the Island. The principal matter to which he takes exception is the failure of hotel keepers to inform visitors of the alternative route from this city to Vancouver by way of Alberni, and he rightly says that this little journey is very enjoyable. The ride from here to Nanaimo is exceedingly pretty and nothing can be more delightful than the sail across the Gulf from the latter city. We venture to suggest that one reason why this route is not more generally patronized is that the Joan leaves early in the morning for Vancouver, and hence a part of two days is required to make a trip from here to Vancouver, which can be made in a few hours by the direct ferry.

We venture to suggest further, and this suggestion is to the Canadian Pacific Railway company, that it might with advantage make the trip over the E. & N. a part of the tourist itinerary and advertise it freely. Possibly this will be done at a very early day. It certainly will be after the line has been extended to Alberni. But the point made by our correspondent deserves consideration, although under present conditions it may not be possible to do much on the line he suggests. The great attractions of the country traversed by the E. & N. deserve to be made far more generally known than they are, and the people of Victoria would find it very greatly to their interest to use their influence in that direction. After the Empress Hotel is opened, it may be assumed that the owning company will make a special effort to induce visitors to visit the many beauty spots and fishing resorts reached by the railway, and anything that may be done in this way will doubtless be seconded promptly by all of us.

Rev. A. B. Winchester, who used to be missionary to the Chinese in Victoria, says we ought to encourage Oriental immigration. A pretty country we would have here if we did.

Mr. J. D. Rockefeller has denied that he has $100,000,000 in United States bonds. We are acquainted with several people in Victoria who can say the same thing, but they are not bragging about it.

Yesterday was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's sixty-sixth birthday. We wish him many happy returns of the day. It may be interesting in this connection to note that Mr. R. L. Borden is in his fifty-fourth year. He is yet a year younger than Sir Wilfrid was when he came into power.

Mr. Jack Reay and Mr. C. M. O'Brien who sign themselves organizers of the Socialist party of Canada, have sent us a letter, which has appeared in The Times two days ago. It was delayed in transmission probably. We do not print it for the reason that it has already been printed.

The Times has a correspondent who wants people to picture Government street with the poles underground, no mud and a few improvements like that. This is asking just a little too much. The man who can picture Government street in such a condition that he will not have to jump from one hillock to another, as if he were crossing a muskeg, will have achieved glory enough for one day.

Professor Prince and some others think that it would be a mistake to allow bait to be taken in Victoria harbor, and the Professor suggests that fishermen can go to Sooke if they want bait. But Sooke is quite a long way off, and if bait can be got nearer without interfering with other interests of equal value to commercial fishing, the fishermen ought to have the privilege of taking it. The reference made by The Colonist to this subject applied not only to Victoria harbor, but to the head of Saanich Inlet and Esquimalt. Are we to understand that Professor Prince sees no objection to the taking of bait in those places? We have only one object in bringing this matter forward, and that is to help out the local fishing industry and enable the people of Victoria to get an abundance of fresh fish at a reasonable price. Some one has objected that Chinamen catch the fish and therefore it does not make any difference whether they are hand-capped or not. This seems like a very silly argument, and it is open to the further objection that it is not founded on fact. There may not be, as Professor Prince says, any very considerable halibut banks inside of Cape Saterly, but if there are beds from which the local market could be supplied, and if the reason that it is not supplied from those banks is that fishermen cannot get bait conveniently, it seems reasonable to suggest that the Department of Fisheries ought to do something to help the fishermen out.

The Times says that the Colonist does not altogether approve of the Liberal platform. We were under the impression that what we said was quite to the opposite effect. Our Liberal friends have managed to group together quite a number of the things for which the Conservative party stands and which the Colonist has advocated over and over again, and we approve of these things none the less because we have done something towards persuading the Liberals that they are worth advocating. Let us take one case as an illustration. Last fall the Colonist began the agitation for an irrigation campaign, and it was promptly informed by Premier McBride that his government was already considering such action. Very shortly after Mr. J. A. Macdonald declared irrigation to be one of the planks in his platform. Mr. McBride gave effect to his policy and the preliminary steps have been taken. Now we do not see why we should cease to advocate this simply because the Liberals in convention have declared in favor of it. We feel rather like congratulating them that they realize the importance of such a policy. Our contemporary seems to think that something ought to be done to reduce the price of coal. A good many people will agree with it, and one of the means whereby the price will be reduced is the very thing to which the Liberal platform takes exception, namely the acquisition by many people of coal-burning areas, for competition in coal production will bring down the price. From our point of view the Liberal platform is a very good platform, because it does not contain anything upon which issue can be joined before the election.

The reference of the Times on Tuesday night to Alderman Ross was unfair to a deserving and honorable public official, who has never yet exhibited any "sympathy with flagrant wrongdoers." We have no opinion to express one way or other as to the propriety of cancelling the license held by the Poodle Dog. This is not a matter to be tried out in the newspapers unless the Board of License Commissioners refuse to act upon good and sufficient evidence. What we are concerned with is whether or not Alderman Ross has laid himself open to censure. As we understand the matter, the Chief of Police made a report unfavorable to the manner in which the Poodle Dog is being conducted, and the Mayor also made some observations to the same effect. This report and these observations may have been founded upon good evidence, but this evidence does not appear to have been produced before the Board, and hence Alderman Ross declined to act. The law provides that the Board shall have power to revoke or suspend a license upon complaint being made and heard before them. By this we understand that the complaint must be definite and there must be a hearing by the Board, and the act goes on to say that before a license is revoked there must be proof of facts showing that the holder of the license has come within the provisions of the law. When the legislature uses the word "proof," it means something else than a report made by a Chief of Police or an opinion expressed by the Mayor. The members of the Board must themselves be satisfied that there are grounds for the complaint, and they have no right to act because some one else is satisfied, when they have not been allowed to know what the evidence is. Hence we think that our contemporary has done Alderman Ross a great injustice.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

The Bank Clerks
There is one member of our modern society who has always come in for a fair share of public sympathy. That personage is the bank clerk. Everybody knows that he has not been very generously paid and although we have admired the self-sacrifice of the bank clerk and wondered belatedly at the position he has taken in society, we have given him our commiseration because of the meagreness of his salary and when he was asked for a raise we have wished that he might get it.

But a Montreal banker puts a different face on the thing and incidentally brings in a charge against the Canadian educational system. "It must be understood," said he, "that for four years a junior clerk is of very little use. In fact he is worth little while serving his apprenticeship. After he has been at the work about four years he becomes of some value to the institution, and then his advancement comes rapidly. We do find difficulty in securing young men of ability. It is really an amazing discovery the ignorance of youths who want to enter the bank service. I really cannot understand what is wrong with the educational system of Canada. When I was young and I made a mistake in spelling, the correct way was beaten into me, but now things seem to be different. For that reason we find youths who are old country far more serviceable and they are all better grounded in English principles than Canadian boys. We brought to Canada a number of youths from Scotland, and they are proving useful young men."—Edmonton News.

Capital Versus Labor.
The proceedings of the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor now in session are likely to throw some light on the gigantic struggle which is now in progress in the United States between capital and labor. The report of the treasurer shows that during the past year $2,200,000 was expended in the support of strikes for higher wages. This enormous amount indicates the strength of labor organizations throughout the republic, and affords a grim significance to Gompers' suggested slogan for the coming year, "no wages reductions." The labor movement announced under the caption "contemptible capitalist antagonism," the action of the National Manufacturers' association in providing a fund of $100,000 to protect its members from the aggressions of organized labor, or as Gompers expressed it, "the effort to weaken, cripple, and destroy labor unions." The Federation of Labor has been formed to combat trades unionism, and the Federation is to be asked for a fund to resist this attack. This does not look promising for the industrial future of the United States. Employers declare that the wage exactions of the labor unions are such as to cripple industry; on the other hand, the powerful organization of unit-labor announces its defiance to any movement for wage reduction, and is backed by millions of money to support its determination. The industrial period will be witnessed in the republic during the coming year.—Ottawa Citizen.

An Eastern View.
Last week the Free Press published an interview with a gentleman who had just returned from British Columbia, in which the statement was made that the real cause of the labor shortage in that province was the failure of the white workers to do their duty properly, and to the attitude of the trades unions, which oppose the introduction of any element of labor, even though it be white and British.

Confirmation of this theory is given by a special correspondent of the Western Mail, Cardiff, Wales, who was a member of one of the English journalists' parties of last summer, and who makes a statement which apparently substantiates the charge. He recently made against labor unions that they oppose white immigration to Canada. It appears that efforts have recently been made on behalf of the Crow's Nest Pass coal mine to induce Welsh coal miners to come out and work in the mines at Fernie. This effort has been immediately followed by a "warning" from the Miners union of Fernie, addressed to the British Mine Workers, not to come to that district.

The correspondent, who has visited Fernie and met Welsh miners' families living there, describes the condition and proves that their lot is both better and happier in Fernie than it ever was in Wales. Then he asks very properly and pointedly if those who are responsible for the warning would want to go back to live in Wales, and adds that there is a smack of selfishness in the attitude of men who would advise their fellows in the old land to keep away from a country where they are themselves doing well.

The union people are not unlike boys in a raspberry shish, who when they find a good "bush" want to keep all the other boys away from it. British Columbia is not the private preserve of either labor unionists or the employers of cheap labor. It must be open to all white men if it is to be closed to Orientals. If it is to be closed to white men at the instance of the labor unions, then those who want cheap Oriental labor are provided with the strongest possible argument for using it and also with one against the unions themselves. This attitude of the labor unions in this time is a dangerous one. It is inimical to both the cause of Asiatic exclusion and unionism itself.—Ottawa Free Press.

CANADIAN MILLS WILL USE ALBERTA'S WHEAT

There Will Not Be More Than Two Million Bushels for the Orient

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—"There will be no Alberta wheat of high grade to export for milling purposes this year, and I expect that the export of the lower grades will not reach over two million bushels. The increased capacity of the local mills is largely responsible for this, the mills of British Columbia and Alberta being now in a position to handle practically all hard grain while the lower qualities will be largely used here as well."

This was the significant statement made by J. E. Hall, of the Vancouver Milling and Grain company last evening. The wheat situation in Alberta was fully reviewed by Mr. Hall, who is probably more familiar with it than any other man on the coast. He said: "A large percentage of the grain in the northern district has been affected by the frosts and being unfit for milling will have to be shipped east for feed. The acreage in Northern Alberta is about the same as last year and what grain is good is bringing big prices."

Mr. Hall regarded the results of the crop in Southern Alberta with a more optimistic spirit. In that part of the country the farmers had a bigger harvest than ever before and this, considered with the fact that they were getting better prices, made the outlook a glowing one in every respect. The acreage in Southern Alberta is 50 per cent. greater than last year, and the quality of the grain is equally as good as the best.

"The figure that is being paid for grain this year ranges from 85 to 90 cents a bushel as compared with from 50 to 60 cents last year," remarked Mr. Hall. "Practically all this wheat will be milled by the local mills. We have already purchased enough wheat to keep us going until next fall and I think that this is true of most of the mills throughout Alberta."

The lower grades of wheat which will be shipped to Japan and China for milling will not likely be moved until towards the end of the year. That is the opinion of Mr. Hall and he attributes it to the stringency of the money market. "This tightness of the money market is retarding the movement of grain in all quarters," he said, "and at the present time there does not appear to be any immediate relief."

The market for Canadian flour in China and Japan is assuming great proportions, according to Mr. Hall. As evidence of this, he quoted figures to show that his firm was shipping at the rate of from 3000 to 5000 sacks per month and the demand was even ten times as great as that. The higher grades of flour are being kept for home consumption and the lower grades are shipped to the far east.

Port Haney Growing.
New Westminster, Nov. 20.—Port Haney, the fruit and shingle centre on the Fraser river, is growing rapidly at present and a large number of dwellings and industrial buildings are being erected.

Vancouver Suicide.
Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 20.—What appears to be clearly a case of suicide has developed in connection with the death of J. T. Henderson, who was found in an unconscious state lying near No. 3 shed on the C.P.R. wharf shortly after 11 o'clock last night. Upon his removal to the general hospital it was found that Henderson was suffering from strychnine poisoning. He never recovered his senses, dying about three hours later. An inquest has been ordered and will be opened at the undertaking parlors of Armstrong & Edwards, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Henderson is about thirty-one years of age, but nothing is known as to his relatives or friends. It is thought that he is an employee of the C.P.R., and his appearance would suggest that he was a brakeman.

Squatters' Rights Recognized.
New Westminster, Nov. 20.—The long-standing "chilliwack squatters" case will soon be settled in a manner satisfactory to those who have taken up land to the North Pacific Lumber company, who hold the land on a timber lease, and to the provincial government, owning the land.

Many of the squatters have been on the land for over ten years, having taken it up in the belief that it was open for purchase or homesteading and since that time have cleared large portions and put up substantial houses and barns. Government Agent C. C. Fisher has investigated the question, and has recommended that each of the squatters be allowed to purchase forty acres. The lumber company has agreed to relinquish the portions sold, as there is little or no timber of value on these portions.

It is expected that crown grants for the land will be issued shortly, the squatters agreeing to pay one dollar per acre and interest on the purchase price since 1896.

Arrange for District Exhibits.

New Westminster, Nov. 20.—The proposal to arrange for separate district exhibits from those sections east of North Bend coming to the provincial exhibition in this city has been adopted by the up-country farmers and in future only fruit will be shown by the districts so far away.

A special meeting of the up-country members of the agricultural society was held in Vernon on Saturday when the matter was discussed and it was decided that it would be best not to send that body to the coast districts in the vegetable and grain classes owing to the heavy freight rates. As the society offered special prizes for up-country exhibits it was thought best that they should be confined to fruit.

In consequence there will be a keen rivalry at next year's exhibition for the valuable trophies to be offered for the up-country exhibits and it is expected that the finest collection of fruit ever seen here will be gathered together for the show. Manager Keary attended the meeting at which these arrangements were made.

Fernie Wants a Subway.

Fernie, Nov. 20.—A petition is being prepared for presentation to the city council by the residents and owners of property in the Fernie annex, asking that they be permitted to construct a subway under the Great Northern track to connect the annex with the city proper; also for the extension of the water mains and electric light; the grading of the streets and laying of sidewalks. Building operations in that section of the town have been very active this year and many new and attractive residences have been erected, but as yet the town council has done nothing to supply ordinary conveniences such as other portions of the municipality enjoy, so it is confidently expected that the petition now being circulated will receive very favorable consideration at the hands of the city fathers.

Locating Timber in Cariboo.
Ashcroft, Nov. 20.—Fred Stephens, as agent for A. C. Burdick, of Victoria, has located two timber limits, situated three and a half miles south of the south fork of the Fraser river, five miles below Beaver river; and has located four limits in the same vicinity for Roland Blair, of Vancouver. He also located two limits for Mr. Burdick three miles west of Crowfoot river and three miles north of the south fork of the Fraser.

Neel McEachern, agent for Leslie Hill, a mining engineer of Nelson, B. C., has located thirteen limits on both sides of Ran Shushup river, and three limits near Goat river.

V. V. & E. Construction.
Hedley, Nov. 20.—J. H. Kennedy, chief engineer of the Vancouver, Victoria & Eastern and L. M. Hole, engineer on construction, spent a couple of days here last week looking after the construction work now in progress on this end of the line. Work is progressing as vigorously as the force available will permit, and will be pushed to completion as quickly as they can manage to do so. When asked about the reported activity of the Great Northern between Mission and Cariboo, Mr. Kennedy confirmed the report that they had three large parties of surveyors in the field there now.

Disease Attacks Cattle.
Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Dominion Veterinary Inspector Dr. Tolmie is in Vancouver today in connection with the inauguration of methods to stamp out a dread disease which is now prevalent amongst the cattle in British Columbia and particularly along the Fraser River.

The epidemic, which has made itself apparent for some time past, has now assumed such serious proportions that stringent efforts are necessary to eliminate it. Many cattle are being killed off, the disease being fatal in almost every case.

The nature of the disease is not fully known, and to ascertain the cause, as well as to learn means of combating it, Dr. Tolmie has appointed a bacteriologist, who will conduct a thorough investigation.

Shoots His Late Employer.
Cranbrook, B. C., Nov. 20.—John Shannon, who has been running a tie camp half a mile west of Swansea, on Saturday November 9, discharged his rifle, James Forsyth, and two other men who had been working for him. The name of one of these men is Amos Morse, the others names are unknown. The following day the three discharged men returned to Shannon's camp and James Forsyth drew a 38 revolver and shot Shannon in the right side. The three at once decamped westward after the shooting. A telephone message brought the news of the shooting to Constable Routh at Moyie to be on the look out. The injured man was brought to the St. Eugene hospital on the afternoon train, where he was attended by Dr. Green, who located the bullet and extracted it.

Prohibits Sunday Concerts.
Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 20.—The city council last night passed an urgency measure a by-law for the regulation of theatres, the chief object of which was admitted the prohibition of the Symphonie Orchestra in the Orpheum theatre on Sunday evenings. The discussion was almost entirely on this point, though several aldermen pointed out at times that the organization might still continue their concerts should the council favor the idea and grant special permits for the occasion.

The new by-law prohibits the use of houses licensed as theatres for any purpose except theatrical and dramatic productions, on any day of the week, save when special permission is granted for other purposes by the council, the using of the houses for political and propaganda meetings being especially delegated to the mayor. The license fee for the business was also raised to $250 annually.

Fire in City School.
Fernie, Nov. 20.—Fire broke out in the public school here shortly after noon on Wednesday and for a time it looked as if the big wooden structure would fall a victim to the flames, but the quick response of the fire brigade, their excellent work and the splendid water pressure soon had the conflagration under control. At the time the alarm was given the class rooms were filled with scholars but there was no confusion or disorder, testifying to the good results accomplished by the weekly fire drill the children being marshalled out to the grounds in a quiet and orderly manner by the principal and his assistants, where they were dismissed for the day. A defective furnace was the cause of the trouble.

OFFICIALS DENY STORY OF AMALGAMATION

Representatives of Dominion Copper Co. Say There is No Merger in Sight

Greenwood, B.C., Nov. 20.—H. H. Melville, of Boston, vice-president of the Dominion Copper company, and M. M. Johnson, of Salt Lake City, arrived in Greenwood on Wednesday evening after having spent a day inspecting the Rawhide and Brooklyn mines near Phoenix. With the officials of the company here, they have gone over the Sunset mine as well as the smelter at Boundary Falls. Hon. Warner Miller was detained in New York on account of poor health.

"The plans for the extension of the company's operations at Boundary Falls are in the hands of the directors," said Mr. Johnson this morning. "It is likely that all the companies will open up together when the market straightens out. Shown the report of the alleged mergers of the different companies, Mr. Johnson declared that there was nothing at all in it."

Vice-President Melville had only one word to express his opinion of article in question: "Crazy," he said, as he finished reading it.

The mines of the company are being kept in excellent shape and work will be continued as soon as operations generally over the copper fields of the United States are resumed.

Two Accidents at Mines.
Fernie, B. C., Nov. 20.—Two accidents occurred at No. 2 mine, Coal Creek Friday morning. James White is suffering from an injured back and leg, caused by a fall of rock, and Alfred Chisholm was crashed between the roof of the mine and the car upon which he was riding. Chisholm is 22 years of age.

Indians' Wishes Granted

Capt. J. T. Walbran, who has returned from Birnie Island, near Port Simpson, where he went to cut off an Indian burying ground on the island, from the lighthouse reserve, said the bodies found there were undoubtedly all modern, and he does not know how the idea got abroad that they had been embalmed. The bodies were placed in a sheltered crevice of rock, and as the Indians were desirous of having the place cut off from the lighthouse reserve, this was done.

Apples From Kootenays

M. Young, of the New England restaurant, has a receipt of a box of very fine apples, a specimen of the fruit of the Kootenays, sent him by John F. Smith, secretary of the British Columbia Inland Board of Trade. Mr. Smith was recently a visitor in this city and though impressed with the city's climate and scenery, he could not be persuaded that Vancouver Island could surpass the Kootenays as a fruit growing center. In support of his contention, he has sent the present sample. The fruit is of fine appearance and includes specimens of Northern Spy, Tolosky, Red, King, Russian, and Pinkies. They have been on exhibition in the window of the New England restaurant.

ASKS FOR MORE TIME

Crossing Plant is Held Up Through Non-Arrival of Machinery

Owing to the non-arrival of some of the machinery the completion of the city's crossing plant will be still further delayed. Andrew Gray, the contractor, who is erecting the plant, has written to the city explaining that in view of the delay in the arrival of some of the machinery, it will be necessary that he be granted a short extension in time. The report has been completed and only awaits some of the parts. The city engineer will look into the matter and decide if Mr. Gray should get the extension asked for.

Libraries have been sent to Hazelton, Vanderhoof, Mayne, Port Moody and Prince Rupert and amongst other places applying is Skidegate, in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Each library contains from 5 to 100 books of various classes, fiction, social, and natural science, useful arts, descriptions, history and biography being all represented. Each library has its own catalogue.

WEEKLY REHEARSAL OF THE MUSICAL SOCIETY

Chorus in Excellent Shape for Concert in Victoria Theatre Thursday Next

The Victoria Musical Society held its regular weekly full rehearsal in the Carnegie library building last evening. The chorus under the direction of John Hicks, the conductor, is making excellent progress and will be in a position to render the two works chosen in excellent style. The chorus is composed of 180 voices.

The two numbers "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" of Coleridge Taylor and "Banner of St. George" by Elgar are exceedingly interesting. The fine descriptive passages in the first are excellently portrayed by the chorus. The virile music of the latter work harmonizes well with the theme, the fight of St. George with the dragon. But one more rehearsal will take place between now and the concert in the Victoria theatre, Thursday, Nov. 28.

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN CASE OF MRS. PATTON

City Admits Liability for Moving Houses and Destruction of Plants

The trial of the question of damages in the Martha Patton hearing which has been selected as a test case in the Victoria West arbitration matter, was concluded yesterday so far as the evidence and arguments before the arbitrator are concerned. The arbitrator, D. R. Harris, will now consider the amounts due Mrs. Patton on the various hypotheses presented, and the matter will then be sent up to the supreme court in the shape of a stated case.

In his argument for the city, J. P. Manning submitted that it had been conclusively shown by the Ralph plan, which the arbitrator was bound to follow, that block Q, in which the lands in question were situated, was incorrectly laid out on the ground with the result that Mrs. Patton's property encroached on the street some fifteen feet. The city did not dispute liability for the actual cost of moving and replacing the buildings, or at least two of them, and the fences or of the value of any trees or shrubs which would be lost. Further than that he contended the city was not liable. It was not a compulsory expropriation when the value of a complete reinstatement would be given. It was a case of reversion by the city on public lands to which the public was entitled. Under the act the wilful and knowing squatter was not entitled to any damages when forced to move. That was not the case here, and fair compensation for actual damage incurred should be awarded, but not for any sentimental loss such as that of the amenities of the garden.

He protested against any compensation for the fifteen feet taken, saying that Mrs. Patton would be able to recover that amount of land from the adjacent property, and that she could not be allowed compensation as well. He also considered damages for expense incidental to the readjustment of boundaries with adjoining owners as too remote for consideration, but both these points would be decided by the court later on.

Mr. Oliver analysed the expert evidence adduced and argued that a very moderate bill of damages had been put in. He submitted that he was entitled to the expenses of moving all the houses and the barn. It appears that the six room house and the barn will, when the lot lines are readjusted, be found to stand partially on the adjoining lot, and Mr. Oliver contended that the fact that adjoining lot happened to belong to Mrs. Patton should not prevent them from being remunerated for moving it. If the lot belonged to someone else they would have to move it and there would be no question of their not receiving damages. This house was rented now, but if the owner should wish to sell it the value of the property would be depreciated if it were not upon its proper ground.

In going into the various items of cost Mr. Oliver explained that Mr. Cattell desired him to say that when he said that a house depreciated "one per cent. per year, he did not mean that the life of a frame house was a hundred years. It appears, though he did not say so in his evidence, that the day before, that Mr. Cattell figures the depreciation of a house on a scale which grows very fast as the house passes a certain age, but that he holds that a well built house, properly taken care of, will not depreciate more than 20 per cent. in the first twenty years, though after that it goes down hill very fast. As Mrs. Patton's house is not twenty years old, he figures that depreciation of a house on the purpose of that particular house at the ratio of one per cent. per annum.

The arguments of counsel over Mr. Harris took the matter under advisement.

VANCOUVER NOW HAS HANDSOME NEW HOTEL

The "Winters" Just Opened to Public Will Fill a Long-Felt Want

The traveling public, and especially that portion of it that finds it necessary to frequently visit Vancouver, will be interested in an announcement which appears in another column of the Colonist to the effect that a new hotel has just been thrown open to the public—the Hotel Winters, corner of Abbott and Water streets, C. N. Owie & Co. being the proprietors.

The building is brand new and thoroughly modern in its interior arrangements, and the 120 rooms are luxuriously appointed. The rates will be found very reasonable—American plan, $2 and upwards; European plan, $1 and upwards. In this respect the Hotel Winters will fill a long-felt want at the Terminal city.

This hotel is in construction and appointments one of the finest and handsomest in the great Canadian west. It is convenient to the stations and wharves, a minute's walk from the retail stores.

Erected by Mrs. A. M. Winters, it was designed especially for a hotel replete with every up-to-date convenience known to the business. It is constructed of red pressed brick with cut stone trimmings. The lobby, buffet and reading are laid with mosaic tiling. The lobby has a lofty ceiling and is a spacious and well lighted room. The furniture is of golden oak with trimmings to suit.

The 120 rooms have running hot and cold water and are supplied with private baths. The bath rooms are generously large. They are exceptionally well lighted and airy, and most expensively furnished. Every room has steam heat and a complete telephone system. An electric elevator provides a splendid service.

The dining room is a large, beautifully lighted and elaborately decorated room. The walls and ceilings are paneled with heavy plaster staff relief work. The service in the dining room is of the best and one dines under pleasant surroundings.

COMPETITION FOR THE STUDENTS OF PROVINCE

British and Foreign Sailors' Society Offers Prizes for Essays

A. Robinson, superintendent of education for this province has received a letter from E. W. Mathews secretary of the British and Foreign Sailors' society, giving details of the society's efforts to circulate busts and medals of Lord Nelson, made from the wood and copper of his ships, the Victory and the Foudroyant. Mr. Mathews also informs him that a prize is offered for the best essay by a boy or girl under sixteen years of age on a sailor subject. Two prizes are awarded for Canada. The competition will be an annual one and this year the subject is "What does the nation owe to Nelson and her sailors?" Essays will be received by Mr. Robinson from the schools of British Columbia and all must be in his hands by June. They must not exceed 1,000 words.

The prize will be an artistic copper plaque. It will bear the King's initials. The subject will in future be announced each year upon October 21st.

From the report received the work of the society is proceeding excellently. The sale of Nelson medals made from the copper of the flagships has realized a handsome figure, and has been of assistance in furnishing seamen's homes in different British and foreign ports.

SAYS ARRANGEMENT IS ENTIRELY UNWORKABLE

Does Not Believe Change Made By Government Will Be Improvement

William Christie, local manager of the C. P. R. Telegraph company, is sceptical with regard to the value of the change which has been made in the West Coast telegraph service. The service has been taken over by the department of public works.

"Statements have been made that the C. P. R. only gave a day service," he remarked, "as a matter of fact the government line had the use of my staff of operators, clerks, bookkeepers and messengers between the hours of 7.30 a.m. and 3 o'clock the following morning, approximately 19 hours a day. On Sundays we gave a service from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. These hours were continuous, no closing for lunch and dinner taking place. The C. P. R. simply acted as agent at Victoria and Nanaimo, sending, receiving and delivering messages. We had absolutely nothing to do with the maintenance of the line which was kept in order by the public works engineer at Victoria. We supplied the government with electricity at Victoria, also office room, heat, light and stationary for which we received $20 per month. As a matter of fact the maintenance of the battery and the delivery and collection of the telegrams cost us nearly that amount.

"When the government line was interrupted with frequency happens, they allowed them to send their telegrams free of charge over our wire by way of Banfield and Nanaimo or Vancouver. This privilege has not been withdrawn and it is of considerable value giving the government a service whether their wire is working or not.

"It is nonsense attempting to make an 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. service, lunch and dinner hours being deducted, compare favorably with such a service as we gave. It is also impossible to give a 24 hour service with one operator. A man must have some recreation and he must sleep. You cannot operate that way without constantly having your hand on the adjustment of the relay instrument."

While watching the Chinese procession yesterday, Mrs. J. K. Prior lost her purse containing $20. She reported the matter to the police.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS TO PAY FOR CAMPAIGN

Those Interested Are Asked to Contribute to Cost of Revival Services

Yesterday afternoon the evangelists, Messrs. Crossley and Hunter, visited the local jail and held a service for the benefit of the inmates. They sang and preached the good news of salvation to the prisoners and many hearts were touched by the appeal to the better nature, and there were many requests for prayer.

From the jail the evangelists went to the Metropolitan church to attend the district meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Methodist church where they addressed the gathering. The meeting last night was especially for Christians, and Mr. Crossley's sermon on the subject of "Perfect Love" was one of the best he has preached. It was listened to with great interest. The text was found in the 1 John, 4-18. "Perfect Love casteth out fear." The ruler and better experience that is before every Christian was very clearly set forth and all urged to enter into the experience.

Mr. Hunter read a part of the 18th chapter of Luke and emphasized the difference in men's attitude toward Christ by the story of the pharisee and the publican. The prayer that brought peace and pardon was the prayer offered by the poor sinner, who only smote upon his breast and said "God be merciful to me, a sinner."

This afternoon a meeting for children will be held in Emmanuel Baptist church at 3.30, and tonight in the Metropolitan church Mr. Crossley will give another of his song sermons.

Tomorrow night the subject of the dance will be discussed and on Sunday afternoon a mass meeting for the members of secret societies and their friends is to be held. The lodges of the city have been invited to attend. The auditorium of the church will be reserved for the members, while the gallery will be open to ladies.

An important meeting of the general committee was held at the close of last night's service when the arrangements for the closing meetings were planned. The finance committee presented a report showing that $770 had been received during the meetings. The evangelists had presented a bill of expenses and after discussion it was resolved that these expenses be paid. Many members of the committee were of the opinion that a larger sum should be left to be given to the evangelists, and it is hoped that a large thankoffering will be given at the closing meetings.

The expense account is as follows:
Transportation $160.00
Entertainment 65.00
Toronto Printing 7.00
Music books 8.00
Souvenirs 5.00
Planist (afternoon meetings) .. 5.00
Press and Advertising comt. .. 10.00
Tracts and folders 10.00
Expenses of light, fuel, etc., Congregational church 10.00
First Presbyterian church 21.00
St. Andrews Presby. church 32.50
Metropolitan church 80.00
Local printing 21.50
Telegrams 3.00
Donations to local charities, Seamen's mission 5.00
W. C. T. U. 5.00
Old Women's Home 5.00
Salvation Army 5.00
Protestant Orphanage 5.00
Total $452.00

At tomorrow night's service, envelopes will be distributed and anyone who cares to contribute to the free will thank offering will be given an opportunity to do so. The committee were greatly encouraged by the result of the meetings and spoke in high terms of the services rendered by the Evangelists.

Canadian Pacific's Atlantic Line is Securing Big Share of the Business

A. E. Suckling, general agent for the passenger department of C. P. R. Atlantic steamship lines, with Mrs. Suckling, has been spending the last week in Victoria. Yesterday they left for Vancouver en route home. Montreal. Mr. Suckling stated that the past season has been a most successful one for the C. P. R. steamships on the Atlantic and they have gained more than an equal share of the travel. He showed the reporter a list of the sailors for one week in October which he happened to have with him. It showed that the C. P. R. vessels had carried more passengers than those of British and American ports for last week.

The new Empress steamers have proved very popular and have been largely patronized by United States travelers.

Saloon Keepers Notified

The police commissioners held a brief meeting yesterday morning at which the chief of police was instructed to notify the saloon keepers of the city that they would be prosecuted if they kept open after midnight. Since the full court judgment in the liquor license regulation case, the saloon keepers have been advised that they can keep open so long as they are not a nuisance. This has been remedied by a change in the wording of the judgment as the result of an application by the city solicitors.

USEFUL DISCOVERIES

Are Not Always Startling, Neither Do They Create the Most Talk

It is not always the greatest, most startling discoveries of science that are most useful to the human race.

Comparatively few people were directly interested in Herschel's finding of the new planet Uranus, but many thousands have been benefited by Prof. Unna's discovery, which provided beyond a question that Dandruff is a disease and the results of the inroads of a parasitic germ which invades the roots of the hair.

The discovery of the true cause of baldness made Newbrow's Herpicide possible. Herpicide effectually kills this germ. Destroy the cause you remove the effect.

OLYMPIC AMATEUR DEFINITION STRICT

Rules in Several Sports for Next Year's Games at London

The British committee in charge of the Olympic games which are to be held in London next year has issued a statement of the amateur definitions which will govern competitions in the various lines of athletics and sport. They are interesting in view of the present troubles in Canada, where a section of the athletic interest is contending that an athlete should not be disqualified as an amateur merely because he competes with a professional, while otherwise observing amateur law. But the British definitions, excepting those for skating, golf, football, tennis, polo and lacrosse, prohibit an amateur competing with a professional. The English definitions are:

Amateur Rowing.
No person shall be considered an amateur oarsman, sculler or coxswain: 1. Who has ever rowed or steered in any race for a stake, money, or entrance fee. 2. Who has ever knowingly rowed or steered with or against a professional for any prize. 3. Who has ever taught, pursued or assisted in the practice of athletic exercises of any kind for profit. 4. Who has ever been employed in, or about boats, or in manual labor, for money or wages. 5. Who is or has been by trade or employment for wages a mechanic, artisan or laborer, or engaged in any menial duty. 6. Who is disqualified as an amateur in any other branch of sport.

Amateur Athletic.
An amateur is one who has never competed for a money prize or monetary consideration, or for any declared wager or stake bet; who has never engaged in, assisted in, or taught any athletic exercises, as a means of pecuniary gain; and who has never taken part in any competition with any one who is not an amateur.

Gymnastic.
Any person who has never competed for a money prize, or remuneration from any source whatever, who has never competed with professionals and never engaged in, assisted in, or taught any athletic exercise as a means of pecuniary gain.

The strict repayment of out-of-pocket expenses by a responsible association or club does not disqualify a competitor as an amateur.

A skater is not recognized as an amateur if he has since January 1, 1893:

(a) Practised in his own person any sporting bodily exercise as a means of gain (gymnastic and fencing instructors excepted).

(b) Practised or taught skating for money (the bare repayment of hotel and traveling expenses by his own club, or association excepted).

(c) Sold or pledged prizes won in sporting competitions.

(d) Knowingly and without protest started in an open skating competition against a competitor who is not an amateur according to these regulations.

Amateur Swimming.

An amateur is one who has never competed for a money prize, declared wager, or stake bet; who has never taught, pursued or assisted in the practice of swimming, or any other athletic exercise, as a means of pecuniary gain; and who has never taken part in any competition or exhibition with any one who is not an amateur.

Tennis.

No definition of an amateur required.

Cycling.

An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for prize of any description or in public.

Lacrosse.

No amateur definition at present. The definition of the A.A.U. will probably be adopted.

Tennis Champion to Resign

Jay Gould, the American tennis player, who won the English amateur championship from Eustace Miles last April, has written to Mr. Miles that he will be unable to reappear in England next year to defend his title.

"Mr. Gould says he will be prevented from coming by his university studies," said Mr. Miles. "Of course, he will forfeit the championship. Tennis is one of the few purely amateur games—that is, the players have to bear all their own expense. Unfortunately, I am not in a position to go to America to try for the championship there, or I would go. At present the championships of England and America constitute virtually the championship of the world. I am in favor of a recognized world championship."

Professional Hockey League

Berlin, Nov. 20.—The Canadian Hockey league, composed of professional hockey clubs of Toronto, Guelph, Berlin and Brantford, was organized here. Delegates were present from four centers, and were enthusiastic with prospects for a successful season. The circuit is compact and traveling expenses will be small. Each place represented has spacious rinks to accommodate large crowds, and various clubs promise to be fast and evenly matched. Officers were elected as follows:

Hon. president, J. P. Downey, M.L.A., Guelph; president, Alex. Milne, Toronto; vice president, A. B. Burnley, Brantford; secretary, N. E. Irving, Guelph; treasurer, O. Vogelsang, Berlin.

lin; executive, J. C. Palmer, Toronto, J. A. Fitzgerald, Guelph, Roy Brown, Brantford, and George Bothmer, Berlin.

ATHLETIC ALLIANCE

New York, Nov. 20.—The American today says an alliance was formed yesterday between the Amateur Athletic association and International Skating union, and the latter body will henceforth control both roller and ice skating. This matter was brought up Monday at the annual meeting of the A. A. U., and a committee, headed by Barlow S. Weeks, was appointed to look into the matter. The committee made a favorable report yesterday. The International Union is composed of the members of the old association formerly controlling the racing hereabouts. The A. A. U. handled the ice skating well last season, but it is glad to shift the burden of controlling the roller skaters. It is understood that the two associations will rule the roller men with a firm hand.

Winnipeg After Stanley Cup
Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—The challenge of the Winnipeg Hockey club to play for the Stanley cup has been accepted and the Peps have given first chance to play the Wanderers for possession of the historic trophy.

Another Pedestrian On Road
New York, Nov. 20.—"Dakota Bob," a picturesque western rival of Weston, the pedestrian, started on a walk from New York to New Orleans yesterday after getting Mayor McClellan to write his name in his book.

Eastern Runners Blacklisted
Montreal, Nov. 20.—Fifty-six runners who competed in the road race against Tom Longboat, the Indian runner, who is under the ban of the A. A. U., have been black-listed by the Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada. As a result these men will be unable to take part in any meets held by, or compete against any athlete of any club of the federation or its affiliations. In other words, these men will be barred from all amateur competition in the United States, as they are all under the A. A. U. ban, which is affiliated with the federation.

SPORT

CLAIM TOM LONGBOAT IS A PROFESSIONAL

American Amateur Athletic Union Will Bar Indian Forever

New York, Nov. 20.—If the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union adhere to their present determination, Tom Longboat, the Indian runner, will never be permitted to compete again as an amateur in the United States. Strenuous efforts are being made by Longboat's manager, John Flanagan, to have the Indian placed in good standing in the Amateur Athletic Union, but the officials of the latter organization say that the only way for Longboat to succeed is to capture the A.A.U., throw the officers out and run the union themselves.

According to the officers of the A.A.U., Longboat has been a professional from the time he began his athletic career. They contend to have pretty positive evidence that the race in Buffalo on Labor Day, in which the Indian competed against Nebraska, of Buffalo, and Coley, who participated in the race without an A.A.U. permit, was a money affair, pure and simple, and so far as Longboat was concerned he was paid for running.

A further charge made against Longboat is that the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, after a thorough investigation, finds that he does not work for a living, that he is taken from town to town by John Flanagan's brother, his manager, who is an amateur in New York city, with brass bands, carriages and silk hats. This is the kind of amateurism that the A.A.U. intends to eradicate.

The officials of the A.A.U. say that a charge has been made that Longboat received money from a Toronto newspaper, which has never been denied. These incidents in Longboat's career will be thrashed out to a finish if the Indian's friends attempt to have him reinstated as an amateur. This will offer a good chance for the probable outcome of the A.A.U., which has been a staunch supporter of Longboat.

Prince of Wales Tennis Cup.

In accordance with his offer, made during the championship meeting the past summer, the Prince of Wales has presented a silver challenge cup to the All-England Lawn Tennis Club, of which he has consented to become president. The inscription runs as follows:

"Presented by George, Prince of Wales, to the All-England Lawn Tennis Club, to be held for the year by the winner of the All-Comers' singles (championship of the world)." The wording is curious. Hitherto the all-comers and the championship have been regarded as distinct titles, although it has happened from time to time that both have been won by one and the same person. This has occurred, of course, when the holder of the title in the previous year has vacated the post of honor. It would be a natural inference from the wording on the cup, that the champion will in future have to play through the whole tourney.

EGERIA TO PLAY SATURDAY.

Change in Schedule of Games for Victoria District Football League.

The Y. M. C. A.—Garrison football games scheduled for Saturday afternoon has been cancelled and the Y. M. C. A. will play H. M. S. Egeria instead. The Egeria will arrive in port today according to information received yesterday and will be ready to play at once. The Y. M. C. A. was originally slated to play the Egeria and the Garrison the Victoria Uniteds but the league authorized the change under the impression that the Egeria would not be here in time to play. The game will take place at Work Point barracks at 2:30 o'clock.

VANCOUVER OPINIONS WIDELY AT VARIANCE

Terminal City Athletes in a Muddle Over Present Amateur Situation

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—The Province today says: "That there is no need for the formation of a British Columbia Athletic association" was the opinion of a big meeting of athletes held at the Vancouver Athletic club last night.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the situation in athletic circles caused by the action of the Canadian Athletic Union, and many facts came to light which went to show that the affair has been a storm in a teacup and that the C.A.U. has been trying to control sports over which it had no jurisdiction.

In the first place the British Columbia Lacrosse association granted permission for its teams to play the Tecumseh and does not recognize the C.A.A.U. Therefore the lacrosse men are not professionals. The Vancouver Rugby Union does not recognize the C.A.A.U. and the Vancouver District Soccer League does not recognize the C.A.A.U., which is now in the position of a dog buying for the moon.

The whole question turns upon whether an amateur team can play a professional team without losing its amateur status. The rugby and soccer unions, which have the largest membership of any sport here and are affiliated with their respective English unions, say that an amateur team can play a professional team. The Pacific Northwest association says the same thing, and the general opinion of the meeting was that the clubs should affiliate with the Pacific Northwest association. Briefly expressed the position is, according to the Pacific Northwest association, which controls sports in this country, and according to the Rugby Union, Soccer Union and Lacrosse association, there are no professionals in Vancouver, according to the C.A.A.U. there are now about 100, but as no one cares a cuss for the C.A.A.U. its opinion does not carry weight. The result of the controversy has been to make the P.N.A. absolutely solid in British Columbia and the complete ignoring of the C.A.A.U.

Last night's meeting was presided over by P. R. McD. Russell and at first opinion seemed in favor of forming a British Columbia Union, but as fact after fact came out the opinion changed. There had been a general impression that the P.N.A. did not permit professional and amateur teams to compete and this led to the rugby and soccer representatives to make the declaration that their respective unions could not join any association which followed that ruling. It was pointed out, however, that the P.N.A. does allow an amateur and professional team to compete together and furthermore does not claim jurisdiction over lacrosse, football, baseball, or hockey recognizing that these sports have their own associations which are looking after them very capably. Consequently, the whole noise about professionalism in Vancouver is arrant nonsense.

It was granted that the C.A.A.U. regard as a professional, but as no athletic association in Vancouver except McGill university recognizes the C.A.A.U. the opinion was that there was nothing to worry about especially as the council governing the Olympic games in London next year has shown that it also does not recognize the C.A.A.U. as the governing body, but has conducted negotiations for Canadian entries through the Canadian Athletic Federation.

The only people that the C.A.A.U. action can possibly affect are the McGill boys, but the C.A.A.U. constitution says that it does not profess to control the English Rugby Union, as with the English union, and as, moreover, the Vancouver union says that only bona fide amateurs are playing rugby here it is difficult to see why the McGill men should fear being professionalized.

The Canadian Athletic Federation seems to include in its constitution all the points which last night's meeting asked for, and a solid affiliation with the P.N.A. and the C.A.F. will be the probable outcome.

Dr. Davidson, the McGill representative spoke very plainly on the subject of lacrosse players being paid and said that the line between the professional and amateur had to be drawn somewhere and that George Smith had taken the proper course. Mr. Smith had been sneered at, he went on, because he had not professionalized all the football players who had played with the lacrosse men under the ban, but it was his opinion that the C.A.A.U. had learned that an effort was being made to get things straight again and had suspended action for that reason.

W. P. Ogilvie thought that a British Columbia union could accomplish nothing. The only possible branch of sport it could govern was track and field events for all other branches already had their unions.

W. E. Edmonds, and W. Ellis put the position of the rugby and soccer unions in the meeting as mentioned in the foregoing, and S. McEwen spoke on behalf of North Vancouver.

H. W. Kent, for the Rowing club, said that they insisted on strict amateurism.

W. P. Ogilvie was responsible for the motion that in the opinion of the meeting it was inadvisable to form a British Columbia Athletic Union, which was seconded by Tom Jenkins, of the Rugby union, and carried unanimously.

The opinion of the delegates was that the interests of sport could be better served and order obtained out of the present chaos by affiliating with the P.N.A. which permitted the point in dispute namely the playing of amateur and professional teams together.

Another Win for Deppe.

Fred Deppe won from W. Proctor in the city championship billiard tournament at the Hotel Canada last evening by a score of 300 to 264. Deppe was in good form and won rather handily. There will be another game in the series on Friday evening.

PREPARING FOR VISIT.

Stanford Rugby Team Will Be Accompanied by the Glee Club.

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—When the Stanford University Rugby team visits Vancouver at Christmas, it will be accompanied by nearly 50 supporters, including the famous glee club. Already arrangements are under way at the university for the big trip which is regarded as the event of the college year. Stanford is justly proud of her glee club, which includes some really first class singers, while a detachment of the mandolin and guitar club will also make the trip north.

When the team was here in 1904 the glee club also came north and gave a concert in the Opera House and this will be repeated at Christmas.

"When I left Stanford," remarked Russ Johnson, one of the Vancouver team, "the boys were rehearsing for their visit here. The mandolin and guitar clubs gave remarkably good performances. When they come here they intend to give a show at the Opera House and the programme will be specially arranged. The boys will be here about a week and Vancouver will get an example of college roving, for this glee party will be heard at all the matches with their college songs and yells."

Schools Football League.

Yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill, the South Park team defeated the Collegiate in a schools league Association football game by a score of 5 to 0. The winners had all the better of the play and won with ease.

DECIDING GAME.

Ownership of Colonist Hockey Cup Will Be Decided on Saturday.

At Oak Bay on Saturday morning, the semi-final game in the Schools Hockey League series for the Colonist Cup will be played, with South Park, the winners of the trophy for the past two years, and North Ward as the contesting teams. If South Park wins, they will get the trophy, not only for the season, but permanently. The game should be a good one however and the North Ward girls are confident of winning. The present standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Drawn	Points
South Park..	1	0	2	4
North Ward .	1	1	0	4
High School .	0	1	2	2

Football Game Today.

At the Work Point grounds today the Garrison and Shearwater teams will play a league game starting at 2:30 p. m. Percy Richardson will referee.

AMATEUR PROBLEM PROVES TROUBLESOME

Representatives of Local Clubs Unable to Agree on Course of Action

A difference of opinion was all that developed as a result of the meeting called by J. G. Davidson, the Y.M.C.A. last evening to consider the amateur situation in the province, in view of the mass meeting to be held in Vancouver a week from Saturday, when delegates from all the big sporting organizations of British Columbia are expected to be on hand to air their opinions. The meeting last night was for the purpose of getting the feeling of local sporting organizations in the matter, but after talking for several hours the delegates present found themselves hopelessly at variance.

Mr. Brown was in the chair and representatives were present from the Y.M.C.A., James Bay Athletic association, Victoria West Athletic association, Victoria District Basketball league, and the Victoria District football league. The attendance was most discouraging in view of the serious nature of the subject to be discussed.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting, to get an expression of opinion on the advisability of forming a British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union, of laying down an amateur definition and of affiliating with some existing amateur union. The delegates could not get together on any one of these points, however, and no line of action was decided upon. Instead every delegate club in the city was asked to send a delegate to the meeting at Vancouver.

D. J. O'Sullivan, who represented the James Bay Athletic association, made a stand for clean amateurism and advocated affiliating with the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. He asserted that the present trouble over amateurism was a question which had been brought to a head by the Canadian Union professionalizing the lacrosse players recently was due to the actions of the lacrosse men who masqueraded as amateurs had brought the suspension on their own heads. Now that they were in trouble they were desirous of putting all the other sporting organizations and the province in the same boat. There was only one amateur definition recognized in America, outside of that halfway measure which the Canadian Amateur Federation of Athletes had adopted permitting a man to play with or against professionals without impairing his amateur standing, and that was the strict definition of an amateur laid down by the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, and the American Amateur Athletic Union, which said that an amateur was one who did not receive any remuneration for playing and never competed with or against a professional for a prize. The talk that British Columbia athletes could affiliate with the British North American association and retain the amateur definition proposed by the Vancouver men which was the same as the Federation definition, was absurd, he said, as the Pacific association being in affiliation with the American Athletic Union had to recognize the latter's definition of an amateur, which was just what the Vancouver men did not want.

Mr. Brown, speaking for the football association, stated that his association recognized the English ruling on the point and permitted professionals to play with amateurs. Under the circumstances he could not support a motion offered by Mr. O'Sullivan to endorse affiliation with the C.A.A.U. and the adoption of the latter's definition of an amateur. J. Lorimer, who represented the Regina team, took Mr. Brown's view of the matter and seeing that there was no chance to get a unanimous vote Mr. O'Sullivan withdrew his motion.

A long discussion followed, in which it developed that the representatives were hopeless, very much at sea regarding the points at issue and the more they talked the worse they got, the meeting finally breaking up with nothing being accomplished whatsoever. It was proposed to have another meeting next week, but as nothing could come of this with the clubs so divided in their views it was thought better to let the clubs themselves send a delegate direct to the Vancouver meeting.

SEVENTEEN TEAMS IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Many Entries Received for New Local Sporting Organization

No less than seventeen teams are entered in the Victoria City and District basketball league. The adjourned organization meeting of the league was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. when entries were received for the various series. Five teams entered the senior division and an even half dozen clubs signified their intention of playing in each of the intermediate and junior series. The teams entered were as follows:

Senior series—Fifth Regiment, Victoria West Athletic Association, Y. M. C. A., James Bay Athletic Association, Firemen's Athletic Association.

Intermediate series—Fifth Regiment, Victoria West Athletic Association, Y. M. C. A., J. B. A. A., Emmanuel Baptist Church Boys Club, High School.

Junior series—Victoria West, Y. M. C. A., Shamrocks, North Ward Football Club, J. B. A. A. and Emmanuel Baptist Boys Club.

W. G. Findlay, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., who was appointed secretary at the last meeting, resigned, being unable on account of his duties to attend to the work and W. V. Stewart was appointed secretary instead. The committee on by-laws and the committee on referees were each given another week in which to report. The spalling playing rules were adopted. A committee consisting of V. W. Stewart, A. Monteith and R. Peden was appointed to draw up the schedules and report at a meeting of the league to be held next Wednesday.

Tacoma Team Is Strong.

Tacoma, Nov. 20.—The candidates for the Y. M. C. A. basketball team will take a workout tonight. The practice has been very encouraging and Director Booth is sure he will have a team this season which will compare favorably with that one which won the Puget Sound championship last year.

The personnel of the quintet to date is as follows: Cook and Crain, forwards; Haddow, centre; Quade and Yeager, guards. Cook has played basketball for four years and is now captain of the high school team. Crain has had six or seven years' experience and is one of the best forwards in this section of the country. Haddow is a veteran player and Quade has played the game for years in his old home in Wisconsin. Yeager is a Tacoma boy and proficient at the great indoor game.

Hockey Popular in Seattle.

Seattle, Nov. 20.—Seattle is to have a hockey team this year, and the indications are that it will be a good one. Quite a number of candidates are working daily at the cricket ground on Rainier boulevard, in anticipation of the contests that have been arranged. In all probability this city will also have a ladies' hockey team.

A meeting of the Seattle Hockey Club was held recently, at which a schedule of games was prepared. It was reported at the meeting that the high schools and the university were contemplating taking up the sport.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

LITTLE RECOVERY IN STOCK MARKET

Liquidation Less Evident, But Money Rates Again Show Advance

New York, Nov. 20.—There was not the consistent weakness in the stock market today that was so conspicuous yesterday, but the course of prices was unchanged. Liquidation of the special kind that was in evidence yesterday was suspended for a time today. The perception of this fact prompted some covering of shorts put out during the decline. Hence the midday rally in the market.

Supposition as to the source of yesterday's liquidation had crystallized into rather definite information, pointing to the personal needs of an individual capitalist and diverting the operation from any suggestion of unfavorable corporate news. The distinct tone of call money in the last day or two did not serve as assurance against such exigencies on the occasion of the maturity of time loans. The whole problem of maturity of outstanding loan obligations offers somewhat formidable possibilities for speculative conjecture, especially in view of the conviction that nearly universal indulgence has been shown during the period of practical paralysis of credit from which business has suffered. The ultimate outcome when business begins to feel the currents of life again, and when, in consequence, liquidation must be renewed is the subject of solicitude. Consideration was given to reports forwarded to Wall Street regarding the condition of Illinois banks and trust companies on Nov. 19, in response to the call of the state supervising officials. The degree of re-investment of position shown by these reports was regarded as confirmation of the contention of New York bankers of the large fortification of the interior banks which was being effected by withdrawals from New York.

The development of the day which was disquieting was the renewed rise in the premium on currency and the resulting signs of disorder in the foreign exchange market. The demand which has lifted the currency premium again seemed to be quite general, coming from widely different points, and not due to any special need. Discounts rose on the London market, and the continued withdrawal of gold from the market seemed to be viewed with some disquietude. The calling of loans by the banks which ran the call loans rate up to 15 per cent. was attributed in some quarters to the preparations by the banks for subscriptions to the United States treasury certificates. The effect was to weaken the whole market again.

Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $3,722,000. United States 3's declined 3-4, and 4's 1 per cent. on call.

HOW WESTERN CROPS WILL BE MOVED OUT

Government Will Place Ten Millions of Gold in Circulation

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Just how the Dominion government is going to co-operate with the banks in assisting to move the western wheat crop, especially that portion which is liable to be destroyed if stored away in its present condition, has not yet been made public. There are about only two ways of doing so. One is to obtain a short loan on the British market, which, under present conditions is not likely to be adopted. The other is to utilize some of the gold reserve which is deposited Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Primary receipts were 586,000 against 822,000 last year. In Winnipeg the market showed great strength, with an increased demand for low grades, and something that looked a little like a corner in May, which, in spite of the drop in American values, remained unchanged from yesterday. It was reported as very difficult to buy except at a premium of 2 cents over the option, and in fact that figure was paid for several lots where orders had to be completed and sales delivered. The efforts to keep contract grades in the country is, rightly or wrongly, attributed to the big mills. English buyers just now are very keen on our low grade stuffs as well as on the contract grades. Perhaps the inability of exporting firms to offer freely has something to do with it. In the meantime, Winnipeg was during the morning 41-8 over Minneapolis, and 31-2 over Duluth for May wheat. Receipts were 4000 cars, with 191 of contract grade.

with the finance department as security against the note circulation. It is said that there is more gold reserve than is required for this and other purposes, and that some of this might be used in an emergency of this kind. At all events, the idea seems to be to place, say $10,000,000 to the credit of those banks by way of a loan, that are recognized in the west as being grain banks that are loaning money to move the crop. There are some four banks mentioned as likely to get part of this loan. They are: the Bank of Commerce, the Imperial Bank, the Dominion Bank, and the Hamilton Bank. The Union Bank is also mentioned.

The railway companies have assured the parties concerned that they will do all they can to facilitate the movement of the crop. The principal difficulty is with the lower grades of grain that have to be moved before navigation closes, otherwise it may be destroyed. The marine department has arranged to keep navigation on the Lake Superior open until December 10. A telegram was sent to Washington asking that the Arthur be left going until that date. The Dominion will pay the extra expenses. This has been agreed to. Everything that is in fact possible for all parties to do is being done to see that the movement of the crop is unimpeded. Should any gold of the gold reserve be used, any would likely be necessary to have some legislation on the subject held this season. The following statement of the Dominion specie reserves as given in the last issue of the Canada Gazette, is interesting:

SHIPBUILDERS HAVE THEIR BUSIEST YEAR

More Tonnage Classed at Lloyds Than in Previous Periods

Lloyd's Register of Shipping, the annual report of which has been received by T. G. Mitchell, Lloyd's surveyor, shows that at the close of the year on June 30, last, 10,255 merchant vessels, registering about nineteen and one half million tons gross, held classes assigned by the committee of Lloyd's register. The return shows that the total number of tonnage classed is by nearly one and a half tons the greatest amount of tonnage classed during any one year in the history of the society. The figures for the year show an increase over last year of 61,722 tons in steamers and 10,344 tons in sailing vessels. The tonnage classed by the society this year reaches the enormous total of 1,484,722. Altogether 43 steamers of over 5,000 tons each are included in this year's classification, the largest being the Lusitania of 30,822 tons.

The report says:

"Whilst the bulk of new vessels which have been classed during the year under review have been ordinary cargo carrying vessels, the society's classification has been assigned to many other vessels embracing a great variety of types. Chief among such vessels is the Empress Turbine Steamer Lusitania, built by Messrs. John Brown & Co., Ltd., for the Cunard Steamship company limited, the performance of which magnificent vessel on her early voyages across the Atlantic has aroused so much public interest. This vessel, which marks an epoch in the progress of modern shipbuilding and marine engineering, has been built under the special supervision of the society's surveyors, and is most pleasing to know that she has justified the high expectation of both owners and builders. The fine sister ship Mauretania, which has been constructed by Messrs. Swan, Hunter & Wigham-Richardson, limited, also with a view to the society's classification, is expected to sail on her first Transatlantic voyage in the course of a few weeks, and there is every reason to believe that she will be as great a success as the Lusitania has already proved herself to be.

Altogether 43 steamers of over 5,000 tons each, have been classed by the society since the issue of the last annual report, the largest of which are the following:

Lusitania, 30,822 tons, Cunard S. S. Co., owners.

Araguaya, 10,537 tons, R. M. S. Packet Co., owners.

Arava, 9,375 tons, Shaw, Savill & Alton Co., owners.

Cassandra, 8,135 tons, Donaldson Bros., owners.

Oronsa, 7,970 tons, Pacific Steam Nav., Co., owners.

Ortega, 7,970 tons, Pacific Steam Nav., Co., owners.

Rohilla, 7,144 tons, British-India S. N. Co., owners.

"The tonnage classed during the year also includes vessels of a variety of types to which the A1 class has been assigned. These vessels are intended for special trades and comprise several for which a high rate of speed, or shallow draft, is requisite. Instances of this kind may be mentioned in the Great Central railway turbine steamers—Immingham and Marylebone, which have been built for the Grimsby-Hamburg passenger service.

"At the present time there are under construction with a view to this special class, seven vessels intended for channel service, viz. three twin-screw steamers for the London & North Western railway company; one turbine steamer for the Great Western railway company; one turbine steamer of nearly 3,000 tons for the Isle of Man Steam Packet company; and two turbine steamers to be employed in the Tsugaru strait, Japan.

"Two other vessels intended for the A1 class, the Assiniboia and Keowatin, of 3,880 tons each, belonging to the Canadian Pacific railway, may be mentioned as interesting examples of the requirements of special trades and the varying conditions of navigation. These vessels, which have been built on the Clyde, are to be employed on the great lakes of North America, but as their length would prevent them from getting through the locks between Quebec and the lakes, arrangements have been made during construction to facilitate the cutting of each boat into two parts at Quebec, and the parts are then to be towed separately to the lakes and there rejoin.

"It is of interest to note as a further indication of the applicability of the society's rules to different types of vessels that plans have recently been passed by the committee for the new suction dredger which is now being built at Birkenhead for the Mersey docks and harbor board for the dredging in the world, with an approximate of 8,300 tons. It is understood this dredger will be able to pump 10,000 tons of sand in 50 minutes. Reference may also be made to the fact that among the number of steam trawlers classed by the society during the past year, the Baleine and Nord-caper, each of 418 tons gross, built at Dunkirk, which are the largest of this class of vessel yet built. The tonnage in course of construction under inspection of the society's surveyors on June 30 last was 1,045,944 tons.

"The steam turbine method of propulsion in merchant vessels has now passed the experimental stage. This society has, from the beginning, been closely associated with the evolution of this new type of marine engine. Many turbine vessels, whether intended for ocean, coasting, or channel navigation, or for pleasure purposes, have already been classed with Lloyd's Register, their total tonnage amounting to 88,365 tons. Ten others, of 22,410 tons, are at present in course of construction under the inspection of the society's surveyors. The latter figures include five vessels of over 10,000 tons each, viz.: the Mauretania, 32,000 tons, 13,500 tons each, being built by Messrs. Harland & Wolff, Ltd., of the Clyde, and the Heliopolis and the Cairo, of 3,000 tons each, which are intended for the Egyptian Mail Steamship company's passenger service from Marseilles to Alexandria. The following list gives the names of the turbine steamers classed with Lloyd's Register since the year 1901:

Emerald (Yt.) gross tons, 694, year of build 1903, owner Sir Christopher Furness, M.P.

Lorena (Yt.), now Atalanta, gross tons 1,303, year of build 1903, owner G. Jay Gould.

Lhasa, gross tons 2,171, year of build 1904; Linga, gross tons 2,171, year of build 1904; Lanka, gross tons 2,171, year of build 1905; Lama, gross tons 2,175, year of build 1905, owner British India S. N. Co., Ltd.

Albion (Yt.), gross tons 1,116, year of build 1905, owner Sir George Newnes, Bt. M.P.

Narcissus (Yt.), gross tons 661, year of build 1905, owner A. E. M. Mundy, Esq.

Dolpe, gross tons 1,216, year of build 1905, owners London, Brighton & South Coast Railway company.

Viking, gross tons 1,951, year of build 1905, owners Isle of Man Steam Packet Co., Ltd.

Bingera, gross tons 2,692, year of build 1905, owners Australasian United Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

Coronaria, gross tons 15,524, year of build 1905, owners Cunard Steamship Co., Ltd.

Kingfisher, gross tons 382, year of build 1906, owners General Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

Reva, gross tons 7,267, year of build 1906, owners British India S. N. Co., Ltd.

Why Catarrh Poisons the System

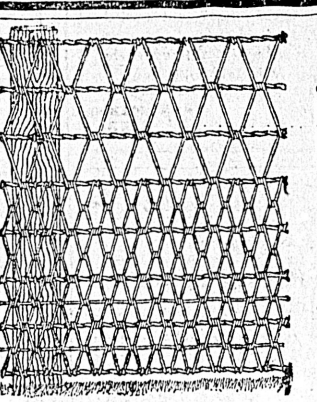

The Catarrhal germ excites inflammation, offensive secretions are thrown off and pass into the circulation, contaminating the river of life and thus wreck the whole body. Every catarrh victim should use fragrant, healing Catarrhazone, the surest cure for every type of catarrh yet discovered. Catarrhazone can't fail to cure because its vapor kills the germs and removes the cause of the trouble. Then it soothes and heals, stops the cough and relieves the stuffed up condition of the nose and throat. Tens of thousands have been cured by Catarrhazone, which is guaranteed. Use only Catarrhazone, trial size 25c, full size 50c.

LONDON BRIBERY CASE

Witness Pritchett Severely Cross-Examined by Mr. Johnston, Counsel for Defense

Toronto, Nov. 19.—A motion to quash the indictment, want of jurisdiction and other legal objections was introduced yesterday at the opening trial of John O'Gorman, W. J. Mulloy, Daniel Wylie and George Reid, charged with bribery in the Hyman-Gray bye-election in 1905. Judge Winchester himself raised the question of jurisdiction, while E. F. B. Johnston, lawyer for the defense, made formal objections to the indictment, arguing that the charges were not sufficiently specific, and claiming that the prosecution was barred by lapse of time. It was decided by the court to take evidence this afternoon. A plea of not guilty was entered.

Mr. Johnston, counsel for defense in the London bribery case, put Pritchett, the Crown witness, through a raking cross-examination this morning. He made Pritchett admit that he was selling himself for a few dollars and that he had made an assumed name. Pritchett was unable to swear that he had never told deputies that if they kissed their thumbs oaths would not be binding upon them.

Mr. Johnston: "Your evidence is that you would have taken the necessary oaths in West Elgin, which you knew would have been perjury. You obtained your position of deputy for a fraudulent purpose by using a false name. In law you admit that you committed the offense of forgery by wilfully and fraudulently using another name to papers that were wrong. You admit that you endeavored to instruct those people to swear what was false and to avoid the penalty for swearing, you admit that you were originally engaged as a conspirator with O'Gorman in deceiving the electorate. You admit that when you find necessity for using a name not your own, you use it? What do you say to all that, guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty," replied Pritchett.

Mr. Johnston: "And yet you come here and ask this court to believe your testimony?"

Hanged Himself.

Ship Laborer Killed.

Quebec, Nov. 20.—Philip Labno, a laborer between 40 and 45 years old, was knocked off the steamer Ramore by an empty coal bucket this morning. Falling on the boom between the steamer and the wharf, he broke his neck, dying instantly.

Railway Questions.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Mr. Dillinger leaves tomorrow for western Canada to investigate the complaints of car shortage for the movement of grain. The Grand Trunk applied to the railway commission for a ruling as to movement of traffic on Sunday, particularly as to switching and the breaking up of trains on that day.

Travelling Smallpox Case.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Robert Howlett came to the city from Newmarket on the Metropolitan street railway yesterday suffering from smallpox. He came here to consult a doctor as to whether he had the disease. He walked from the car to the doctor's abode and was thence transferred to the smallpox hospital. The doctor at Newmarket had told Howlett he was not sure of the disease.

SAYS IT IS A FACT

D. E. Campbell Confirms Guarantee on Hyomei, Cure for Catarrh

The question having been raised as to whether or no D. E. Campbell will refund the money if a Hyomei outfit does not do all that is claimed for it in curing catarrh, he wants to state positively that this guarantee is an absolute fact.

A guarantee like this is the best proof that can be offered as to the curative powers of Hyomei in all catarrhal troubles. You do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues, and D. E. Campbell takes all the risk.

If you have catarrh, try this wonderful medicated air of Hyomei. It does not drug or derange the stomach, but is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, so that its medication reaches the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, where any catarrhal germs may be lurking. It quickly destroys them, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and vitalizes the tissues so that catarrh is no longer possible. You can lose nothing by giving Hyomei a trial, nothing but the catarrh and that is good riddance.

The price of the complete outfit is but $1.00; nothing if it fails to cure. Get an outfit from D. E. Campbell today and begin its use at once.
